DEA's Portland office hires new transportation marketing lead

PORTLAND, Ore. – April 7, 2010 – Gregg Weston has joined David Evans and Associates, Inc. (DEA) as vice president of business development for Transportation in the Portland office. Weston has more than 30 years of civil engineering experience and has contributed to numerous notable projects in the Portland metropolitan area, including South Waterfront redevelopment, the OHSU campus and the Interstate MAX light rail extension. Weston is a registered civil engineer in Oregon and Washington. He currently serves the University of Portland Civil Engineering Department Advisory Board.

DEA has more than 18 offices in seven states and employs more than 650 people.

Since its founding in 1976 in Portland, Ore., DEA has become a recognized leader for progressive and sustainable design and management solutions for complex transportation, land development, energy, and water projects nationwide. Its staff includes professional engineers, surveyors, planners, landscape architects, and natural resources scientists. DEA is an employee-owned corporation and consistently ranks among ENR's Top 100 Pure Design firms in the U.S.
