DEA names business development manager for land development

PHOENIX, Ariz. – Oct. 29, 2010 - David Evans and Associates, Inc. (DEA) has named Boyce O'Brien business development manager for the firm's Land Development Business Unit.

O'Brien, a senior associate of the firm, joined DEA in 1996 and has been involved in almost every non-residential major land development project the Phoenix office has undertaken, including the Phoenix Convention Center, the Coyotes Arena, Cityscape, and Westgate with a strong expertise and passion for mixed-use and sustainable infill redevelopment. DEA has had an office in Phoenix for for nearly 20 years.

He has more than 20 years of experience in client relationships including complex project management, site assessments, planning and entitlements, engineering and construction. In this new role, O'Brien will be responsible for leading strategic firm-wide visioning, business development and marketing for the business unit.

Since its founding in 1976 in Portland, Ore., DEA has become a recognized leader for progressive and sustainable design and management solutions for complex transportation, land development, energy, and water projects nationwide. DEA's staff includes professional engineers, surveyors, planners, landscape architects, marine scientists, and natural resources scientists. DEA has 17 offices in seven states and employs more than 650 people. DEA is an employee-owned corporation and consistently ranks among ENR's Top 100 Pure Design firms in the U.S.
